Project Description:

The Wilson Museum has in our care cultural heritage items from around the world. We have made an institutional commitment to decolonizing our collection, our relationships, our content, and the way we work. As part of this, we are in the process of consulting and collaborating with Indigenous nations, communities, and people towards the goal of aligning our collections care, access, and interpretation with this commitment, alongside repatriating cultural items that should not be in our custody.
